

Fund Manager Commentary

Global economic growth continues to vary among regions, as inflationary forces and central bank strategies began to diverge. As global central banks approach the zenith of their tightening efforts, the trajectories and rates of disinflation vary among regions, portending a potential policy divergence in the future. Price pressures are continuing to abate as the demand for goods and supply chains return to normalcy. The FOMC emphasized a "higher for longer" approach in its recent communication. We expect oil prices to continue rising, at least staying relatively high and contributing to elevated inflation. Nevertheless, it is crucial to monitor key risks, including the possibility of a more pronounced-than-expected economic downturn, missteps by central banks, a resurgence in inflation, the trajectory of Chinese economic growth, and geopolitical tensions.

During the month of September, global equity markets experienced selling pressure as reflected by the 4.5% decline in the MSCI World index. In US, the S&P 500 Index showed a monthly decline of 4.9% while the tech-heavy NASDAQ reported the monthly decline of 5.8%. In the GCC region, MSCI GCC Index was down 2.7% in September. This was mainly due to the 3.8% decline in the Saudi index. Dubai ended in green and recorded growth of 2.0% in the month while DFM Index was up 2.0%.

Among our major holdings, ARAMCO will start talks to buy a 10% stake in Jiangsu Eastern Shenghong Co's Shenghong Petrochemical, its refining and petrochemical company. This would give ARAMCO access to a 320,000b/d refinery and petchem complex. ARAMCO also agreed to buy fuel distributor Emax Distrucion in Chile, as part of its push to expand its refining and chemicals operations globally. Another portfolio company, ACWA signed multiple early agreements with state-owned China Southern Power Grid International and MingYang Smart Energy to collaborate in China and globally on clean energy.
